A HEART FOR INGA

INGA-SAURUS COLOURING BOOK

Inga loves dinosaurs, she has a big collection of them, but Inga also has an extremely rare heart defect and needs a life saving operation urgently.

To help raise money for her surgery in the USA - the only place in the world performing such specialist heart surgery - we've created the IngaSaurus Colouring Book.

We invited artists and illustrators from around the world to draw a dinosaur, creating this dino-tastic collection ready for your favourite colouring pencil!

Download PDF

Or, simply share IngaSaurus with some of your friends.

I love dinosaurs because there are so many of them, you can always find a new one to look at. But also because they are big and scary RAWR!

Inga 5 years old

A heart for Inga

Inga has a very rare and serious form of heart disease, a one hour defect. At the age of 5, she is already halfway through her life without the heart surgery she needs to be saved.

This year, Inga's family moved to the United States from their home in Poland. Her family need to raise £250,000 by the end of March 2021 to fund the lifesaving treatment and give Inga the best possible chance of a long and healthy life.

Any donation you can give to help Inga's family reach their fundraising goal would be immensely appreciated.

Your cutecious colouring

Have you had a reminiscing whilst posting a photo of your childhood memories or share your Cutecious colouring with us on Facebook and Instagram?

Huge thanks to all of the amazing artists who have made this book possible.

Loading script asynchronously as a Promise in JavaScript

February 3, 2021 · 1 min read

In most projects, an external library must be used (e.g. YouTube Player, Google Maps...), so the idea is to create a function to load the script asynchronously using Promise that will be resolved when the script is loaded. We can then trigger actions in the Promise and ensure that everything is executed correctly when loaded.

const loadScript = (src, async = true, type = "text/javascript") => { return new Promise((resolve, reject) => { const tag = document.createElement("script");
    const container = document.head || document.body;

    tag.type = type;
    tag.async = async;
    tag.src = src;

    tag.addEventListener("load", () => {
      resolve({ loaded: true, error: false });

    tag.addEventListener("error", () => { reject({
        loader: false,
        error: true,
        message: `Failed to load script with src ${src}`,

    container.appendChild(tag);
  .catch(error => {
    reject(error);
  });
```

Let's try to load a script

loadScript("https://www.youtube.com/embed_api")
  .then(data => {
    console.log("YouTube script successfully loaded", data);
  .catch(error => {
    console.error(error);
  });

That's it!

Before you leave...
Thanks for reading! 😊

Build-to-rent developer Quintain Living approaches each new development with the mentality of a start-up: eager to try new ways of working, one of the team's core values is to keep on learning.

So when it came to finding a design concept for Beton, Quintain Living's latest BTR apartment building, the team was open to a new approach. "We wanted to try a different methodology," explains Head of Mobilisation Jennie Fojtik, who is responsible for filling an empty building with modern flats and engaging amenity spaces for successful young professionals.

I have been working alongside Stefan for just short of 5 years and they've been the most impactful years in my career so far. He's the only person I know in this business who somehow manages to perform like a machine and at the same time be a kind, considerate, and thoughtful human being. He truly cares deeply about the work we do. He's incredibly passionate, has his finger on every pulse of our industry and has a wealth of inspiration and knowledge that's impossible to keep up with. He makes me want to be a better creative and a better person, every day.
